Principal update for community

The Board of Trustees have been really busy over the past few months searching for a new Principal for our school. We have had a group of dedicated people involved in the recruitment and selection process plus valuable support from the Catholic Education Office. The team spent many hours creating application packs, reviewing CVs, and interviewing. We were all committed to finding the right person for our school: someone who is capable of leading St Brendan's into the future - our Catholic faith and our children's education; and a person who is a good communicator, dedicated to building a great school community.

The Board of Trustees are very pleased to announce that we have found that person.

Veronica Sawers has accepted the role of Principal of our school and will be starting with us on the first day back at school in 2018.

Veronica is currently Acting Principal at Boulcott School where she holds the full-time position of Deputy Principal. She has acted in the Principal role before, but this will be her first permanent Principal role. Veronica has had many years of teaching experience and, in particular, several leadership roles. Veronica is also an active parishioner in Our Lady of the Valleys Parish. Veronica was very excited when she was offered the role and she is very keen to start.

Again we want to thank our wonderful teachers who have provided amazing support to our children and our families during this time (including staging a fabulous school production). Our teaching team has really been an amazing support to us. We also want to say thank you to our school management and administration team for keeping everything running smoothly. A special thank you to Nicole Banks who has done a fantastic job of being our Acting Principal (and wearing several other hats) and who will also be a great support to our new Principal.

Regards and God Bless
